IMPOSING OBSEQUIES.

Elaborate Preparations Being Made For Victoria's Burial.

UNPRECEDENTED ARRAY OF ROYALTY.

Greatest Among the Foreign Potentates In Attendance Is the Emperor Of Germany—Court Etiquette Observed at a State Funeral.

London, Jan. 31.—The advance guard of royal guests has arrived for the funeral pageant. The kings of Portugal and Greece, Duke of Sparta, the crown prince of Roumania, and the grand duke of Baden are here, and the king of the Belgians, the crown prince of Denmark and Sweden, Grand Duke Michael of Russia, Duke of Aosta and Archduke Franz Ferdinand are expected within the next 48 hours. Each royal guest is entertained by the king and his reception upon his arrival in London needs to be provided for and lords in waiting must also be appointed for daily attendance upon him. The same details were ordered during the queen's jubilee, when there was a brilliant cavalcade of princes and special ambassadors in the procession to St. Paul's. So many sovereigns and heirs to thrones have never been seen in any European capital at any one time as will be here and at Windsor Saturday.

The service at Windsor Saturday will be conducted by the archbishop of Canterbury, the bishop of Winchester and the dean of Windsor. The archbishop of York and the bishop of Oxford will be present. The interment Monday will be conducted by the bishop of Winchester and dean of Windsor.

Before the jubilee there were repeated rehearsals with the queen's eight cream colored horses and royal carriages of ceremony in front of the cathedral. Similar rehearsals occur daily at Victoria and Paddington stations under the direction of the duke of Portland. A freight van is substituted for the gun carriage and coffin, but the eight creams are in harness and a long line of royal carriages is sent over the appointed route.

The gun carriage to be used Saturday will have rubber tires on wheels. This unusual detail has been arranged in accordance with the definitely expressed wishes of the queen. It is explained by those high in authority as due to the queen's painful reminiscences of the funeral of the duke of Wellington, when the wheels of the gun carriage went bumping along the pavement and caused her to shudder and grow cold. Spectators with sensitive nerves will be spared a similar experience Saturday. It will be the final exhibition of the queen's thoughtfulness in small details.

Householders along the route are asking a year's rent for single windows. A member of the United States embassy sent an agent to secure a window for his family, but neither official influence nor anything else can procure a small window even on a side street near St. James street for less than £100, and places of fair vantage have already been engaged at prices prohibited to any but millionaires.

Court etiquette needs to be carefully considered even at a state funeral and the foreign sovereigns and princes must be marshaled as mourners in the strict order of precedence. The German emperor is the greatest among them and the king as emperor of India ranks with him. The order of precedence among the English princes and princesses has been transformed by the opening of the new reign. Owing to changes in the relative rank the Duchess of Cornwall and York has become the second lady in the realm, having improved her position 18 points, and the king's three daughters take precedence directly after her, instead of following, as before, their uncles and aunts, who have gone down. The only prince whose relative value, according to the etiquette of Henry VII, is unchanged is the duke of Cambridge, who by virtue of being a grandson of George III, retains his former place as number seven.

For the funeral 33,000 soldiers will be under arms. Of these 3,000 will march in the procession and the remainder will line the route. The detachments of troops in the procession will represent every branch of the army, navy, colonials, yeomanry and volunteers. The military display, however, will not be spectacular. All the men will wear overcoats, except the Irish footguards on duty at Buckingham palace. There are 20,000 soldiers pouring into London from the country. School buildings will be utilized as barracks. An army of workmen is preparing Victoria station for the arrival of the funeral cortege. The placards have been torn down, the wood and iron work have been repainted and the stairs in the vicinity display the royal monogram on a black and purple background. All the details of the ceremonies are being rehearsed.

The tale of Wight is fast filling with visitors. Steamboats arrive in quick succession and excursions around the island through the fleet are largely patronized. The frequent arrivals and departures of royalties enliven Trinity pier and the quiet streets of this town. The coffin of Queen Victoria was finally soldered Thursday morning and enclosed in the outer casing.

The death of the queen has created an unprecedented demand for flowers for wreaths. Some of the leading florists have had so many orders as to be obliged to decline to fill any more.

ENVOY EXECUTED.

Boer Who Turned Judas Was Shot by Dewet—Mines Damaged.

Cape Town, Jan. 31.—The Boer attack on the Boksberg mines resulted in damages amounting to £300,000.

The commissioner at Kroonstadt reports that Andries Wessels, one of the peace envoys, was shot at Klipfontein Jan. 28, by orders of General Dewet. It will be remembered that Lord Kitchener reported from Pretoria Jan. 13, that three agents of the Boer peace committee were taken as prisoners to General Dewet's laager, near Lindley, Jan. 10, and that one, who was a subject, was flogged and then shot, and the other two burghers flogged by General Dewet's orders.

The identity of Andries Wessels, reported to have been shot by General Dewet at Klipfontein Jan. 28, can not be definitely established. But Lord Roberts reported July 4 that General Methuen had captured the commander of Dewet's scouts, and two other prisoners, and according to the cable Andries Wessels, the head of the Afrikaanderbund. It is possible that Andries Wessels and Andries Wessels are the same person.

Morgan Daal, who was another of the two Boer peace envoys and who accompanied Andries Wessels, was shot near Lindley, Jan. 10.

Dewet has again invaded Cape Colony with a strong force.

Bouts With Boers.

London, Jan. 31.—General Kitchener, telegraphing from Pretoria under date of Jan. 31, says: "Dewet's force crossed the Bloemfontein-Ladybrand line near Israelpoort during the night of Jan. 30. Hamilton's men at the water-works were unable to get in touch with them. French, with cavalry and mounted infantry, is sweeping the country east of the Pretoria-Johannesburg railroad, between the Delagoa bay and Natal railroad as far as Ermelo. He engaged about 2,000 of the enemy at Wilgevalley. The enemy retired with four killed and nine wounded. Our casualties were one killed and seven wounded. Knox reports that he engaged Dewet's force south of Welcome Jan. 29. There was continuous fighting for some hours. Five Boers were buried. They removed many of their casualties in carts. Our casualties were one officer and one man killed and 13 wounded."

Edward's Transvaal Title.

London, Jan. 31.—It is claimed that the wording of the proclamation at Pretoria, describing King Edward as "supreme lord of and over the Transvaal" was deliberately designed to promote reconciliation. Sir Henry Drummond Wolff declares it is difficult to exaggerate the importance of this step. The title, he says, is likelier than any other that could be devised to lead to pacification. It establishes the supremacy of the British sovereign and recognizes the moral entity of the Transvaal, keeps it separate from the constitutional empire and places its ancient laws, customs, traditions, religion and private property under the supreme separate rule and protection of the king. The proclamation, concludes Sir Henry, was inspired by the genius of conciliatory statescraft and the result must be pacific.

For European Railroads.

Philadelphia, Jan. 31.—The Norwegian steamship Fortuna has sailed from this port for Europe, carrying a cargo of railroad rolling stock valued at $220,880. At Marseilles she will land 10 locomotives and tenders, worth $120,000, for the Paris and Lyons railroad, and to Bilbao, Spain, she will take eight locomotives and tenders, valued at $100,880. Besides these shipments the Fortuna has on board 7,426 flat steel billets worth $17,799 for Newport, England.

Loved the Same Senorita.

Phoenix, A. T., Jan. 31.—News has been received here of a duel with pistols between Tom Childs and Miguel Lasado, at Ajomine, northwest of Phoenix, in which the latter was killed. Childs is a wealthy cattleman and Lasado a miner. Both were in love with a senorita, over whom they fought.

WITH A NEW HATCHET

Mrs. Carrie Nation Started Out to Raid Topeka Saloons.

VISITED FIVE DRINK EMPORIUMS.

Large Crowd of Sympathizers Followed Her and Prevented Her Arrest—Declares She Will Fulfill Her Mission Before She Quits.

Topeka, Jan. 31.—Mrs. Carrie Nation, armed with a new hatchet started on a crusade against the Topeka saloons Thursday. She called on five. The first visited was the Apex, the finest in the city, but no damage was done. She was put out of the place. She said she merely wanted to lecture. However, should violence be shown her she intended getting in her work. She did no damage at the other four saloons. A crowd of several hundred people followed her down the street, most of whom were sympathizers. The police tried to arrest her, but the crowd prevented. Mrs. Nation says the Lord's mission to her, "Clear out all joints in Topeka before leaving," will be fulfilled, and if the authorities do not suppress the resorts she will smash them, using rocks and hatchets.

LONG LEASE ON LIFE.

Oldest Man in the World Is Past 137. Oldest Woman Is 117.

New York, Jan. 31.—After searching six months for the oldest persons in the world, the committee on vital statistics of the Hundred Year club of this city has prepared a report which shows that the oldest man is Izai Rodofsky of Moscow, Russia, who is nearly 138, and the oldest woman, Mrs. Nancy Hollafeld of Battle Creek, Mich., who is 117. Rodofsky is reported by Dr. Joseph Jernossy of Moscow, who says the old man comes of a long-lived family. His father died at 120 years. Rodofsky's sight is good, but his hearing is poor. He was never ill, uses liquor, but has never used tobacco. Dr. Wood of Battle Creek, Mich., sanitarian reports that Mrs. Hollafeld has lived a temperate, simple life, doing housework for years.

Names are Similar.

Asheville, N. C., Jan. 31.—Mrs. Nancy Hollafeld, mentioned in a New York dispatch as living in Battle Creek, Mich., at the age of 117 years, is believed here to be Mrs. Nancy Hollifield of Rutherford county, N. C., who died recently at the age of 117.

Attempt at Blackmail.

Cincinnati, Jan. 31.—A sensational arrest for attempted blackmail was made by United States officials. The persons arrested are Dr. Fred S. Horman, his wife, Dr. Adah S. Horman, and her son by a former marriage, Clyde Shehan. The parties who are the intended victims of the alleged attempt at blackmail are Howard Douglas, a leading attorney, quite prominent in Pythian circles, being past supreme chancellor in that organization, his wife, and Dr. Crank, his family physician. Dr. Horman has been for 25 years confidential secretary and office man for Mr. Douglas, and is a fellow member in the same castle of the Knights of Pythias. The form of blackmail attempted was the writing of anonymous letters to Mr. and Mrs. Douglas and to Dr. Crank demanding money for the suppression of alleged information, which the writer said would ruin them if made public. The amount demanded was $7,000.

Philippine Legislation.

Manila, Jan. 31.—The act organizing municipal governments in the Philippines was passed by the United States commission after the adoption of amendments including a provision disqualifying from voting and holding office any person after April 1 in arms against or aiding those opposing United States authority. The power to review election irregularities is transferred from the governor of the province to the election judges. A provision is added for returns and records of birth, marriages and deaths. The president's symbol of office is designated as a gold headed lasso cane. The provincial government bill has been completed. Soon after its enactment the commissioners will visit Luzon provinces and witnesses the organization of the provincial government and the elections. Later they will visit the southern islands.

Norfolk, Va., Jan. 31.—An unknown 3-masted schooner went ashore near Cape Hatteras. Three lifesaving crews went to the rescue and brought the crew to shore. The British steamship Sir Richard Granville towing the British steamer Mary Thomas arrived in Hampton Roads. The Thomas was disabled in a storm. Both were bound, loaded, from Philadelphia for Europe.

KING EDWARD'S COURT.

Expected to Be the Most Brilliant Court in Europe.

London, Jan. 31.—Members of King Edward's suite tell their friends that his majesty appears overwhelmed by the sense of the responsibility of kingship. Whereas, formerly he was genial but exacting and irritable regarding official matters, he has become profoundly grave and exceedingly considerate to those about him in small as well as in important matters. He has worked many hours daily since the queen's death, disposing of two or three weeks' arrears of public business which she was not able to attend to. Society expects that King Edward will make St. James the most brilliant court of Europe, hold night drawing rooms instead of the somewhat dreary afternoon functions of the past quarter of a century, and provide refreshments, instead of leaving the guests to eat sandwiches in their carriages, under the eyes of the crowd. Those who have been presented to the queen will be entitled to attend King Edward's drawingrooms, after submitting their names to the lord chamberlain.

It is hoped the king will revive the custom of the monarch visiting the castles of the nobility and also revive the holding of drawingrooms at Holyrood palace. Whether he will adopt the prerogative of kissing the cheeks of the ladies presented, followed by the viceroys of India and Ireland, is one of the topics of society gossip.

Queen Alexandra pays frequent visits to the sick room of her son, the duke of Cornwall and York. Although the duke undoubtedly has had a severe attack of German measles and considerable fever at night, it is expected he will be convalescent in a week. The duchess of Cornwall and York will return to attend him immediately after the funeral.

Dane With British Tendencies.

Copenhagen, Jan. 31.—The accession of a daughter of the king of Denmark to the position of Queen of England will affect the future of Prince Charles of Denmark, who prefers to reside in England. Prince Charles has long desired to enter the British navy. His grandfather, the king of Denmark, has consented, but his father, the crown prince, objected. It is now understood, however, that the latter has approved this step, and Prince Charles will probably soon be appointed to a position in the English navy.

Floral Tributes.

London, Jan. 31.—The United States embassy will send to Windsor castle three magnificent floral pieces, a wreath from President McKinley, a wreath from Mrs. Garfield and a cross from Ambassador Choate. The president's wreath is eight feet in diameter and of solid, white carnations, arums, lilies of the valley, tulips and roses, with a cluster of mauve orchids in the center. Mr. Choate's cross is of the same flowers. Mrs. Garfield's wreath is composed of arums, neopolitan violets and greenery.

George's German Measles.

London, Jan. 31.—Considerable alarm is felt concerning the Duke of Cornwall and York, who is ill with German measles. The duke's constitution is none too robust at the best, and an attack of this description is severe on the strongest adult. Complications are feared and Sir William Broadbent, a great fever specialist, is expected at Osborne.

What's Up?

Berlin, Jan. 31.—The British ambassador here, Sir Frank C. Lascelles, has suddenly gone to England in obedience to a telegraphic order. It is believed here that the ambassador's departure has political significance.

Spencer Promoted.

St. Louis, Jan. 31.—Second Vice President Finley of the Southern Railway company announces that H. B. Spencer, assistant general manager of the St. Louis-Louisville lines of that company, is appointed to the position of general manager of those lines, vice George C. Smith, resigned to accept service as vice president of the Security Investment company, controlling the Westinghouse interests.

Pugs' Hearing Postponed.

Cincinnati, Jan. 31.—There are no further developments in the injunction suit brought to prevent the coming Jeffries-Ruhlin contest. In the matter of the arrest of Jeffries and Ruhlin, the hearing was set for Thursday afternoon, but Prosecuting Attorney Hoffheimer asked for a postponement until Monday on account of lack of time to prepare the case. This was agreed to.

Tin Can Trust.

New York, Jan. 31.—It is reported that negotiations for a tin can combine at $50,000,000 capital are practically complete. Companies in New York, Chicago, Toledo, Indianapolis, Detroit and on the Pacific coast gave options

MERE MATTER OF FORM

Might as Well Do It Right While They Are at It.

NO CHANCE THIS TIME TO QUIBBLE.

Technicality In Official Canvas of the Electoral Vote—Hasn't Been Correctly Observed For Years—Pettigrew Against Army Bill.

Washington, Jan. 31.—In the house Mr. Dalzell (Pa.), from the committee on rules, reported a substitute for the senate resolution for the counting of the electoral vote Feb. 13. Mr. Dalzell explained that in 1887 a law was passed prescribing the method in which the vote should be counted and declared. Prior to that time the count had been made under a resolution providing that the president of the senate should declare the result. But since the passage of the law it had not been followed and the senate had adopted the old abrogated resolution under which the count was made prior to 1887. The house substitute was, he said, in the language of the law. There would be no declaration of the result by the presiding officer, but simply of the state of the vote, which the law declares sufficient. It was important, he said, this change should be made while no partisan controversy existed over the result. Both Mr. Richardson (Tenn.) and Mr. Bailey (Tex.) said they considered the change proposed advisable. The resolution was adopted.

The house then took up and passed the fortifications appropriation bill. The postoffice appropriation bill was then taken up.

In the Senate.

The senate resumed consideration of the conference report upon the army reorganization bill, and Mr. Pettigrew addressed the senate upon it. He said he had voted against the bill and would have been pleased if it would have been defeated. Mr. Pettigrew referred again to the fact that the senate had refused to pass his resolutions making inquiry for the facts concerning the situation in the Philippines. He asserted the belief that the full records would show that the battle of Feb. 4 was ordered from Washington and he charged that only such facts were given to the public as suit the purpose of the party in power. He also charged that notwithstanding the instructions to the Paris commission had been sent to the senate in secret the president had quoted copiously from them in his letter of acceptance, omitting such portions as did not suit his purpose. "And yet," he said, "the senate refuses to make the document public." He also charged that General MacArthur's report had been suppressed for partisan purposes, and that the reports of the Taft commission are colored on orders from Washington to fit the emergency. He asserted that the Filipinos are not enemies of the United States, and he hoped they would be successful in their contest for liberty. "I hope the day will never come," he said, "when I shall cease to sympathize with a people struggling for liberty no matter where they are." Mr. Pettigrew took special exception to the provision authorizing the enlistment of Filipinos. At 2 o'clock Mr. Frye moved that the senate continue consideration of the army bill conference report. He said he thought the army bill was the most important matter before congress. This displaced the shipping bill.

Gage's Opinions.

Washington, Jan. 31.—Secretary Gage was heard by the banking and currency committee upon the Loring bill for elastic currency. He thought it was a step in the right direction though he thought it does not go far enough. Mr. Gage also advocated the retirement of the greenbacks.

War Revenue Reduction.

Washington, Jan. 31.—The senate committee on finance reported a number of amendments to the war revenue reduction act, affecting stock transactions, the tobacco tax, bills of exchange, etc.

Place For a Hoosier.

Washington, Jan. 31.—The president nominated Charles B. Charles B. Rogers of Indiana to be consul at Zanzibar, Zanzibar.

Tennessee Shuts Out Cigarets.

Chattanooga, Tenn., Jan. 31.—Tobacco dealers in this city have received notice of the final passage of the anti-cigarette bill, and its signature by the governor. They will discontinue sale and return their stock on hand to the manufacturers. It is stated that the sale of cigarettes is practically stopped all over the state. Intimations are given that the constitutionality of the law will be tested.

SENATOR TURNER asserts that, instead of $180,000,000, the ship subsidy bill will commit the Government to expenditures aggregating $270,000,000—"one-quarter Government paternalism and three-quarters lawless piratical raid on the public treasury." No wonder the Hanna-Payne-Frye gang are bending every effort to pass this measure.

In the card issued to the public by Death and the other members of the gang that murdered that poor girl in New Jersey they say they "will face the future with manly hearts." "Manly" hearts are just what they possess no semblance of, else they would not now be executed by every one having a heart above that of a jackal.

ANOTHER candidate for Assessor has entered the contest in the person of Mr. Henry Childs of Hilltop precinct. His announcement appears elsewhere in this issue. Mr. Childs is one of the county's thrifty and energetic farmers and ranks among Hilltop's most active Democrats. Of him it can also be added that he is well qualified in every way for the position.

A DISPATCH from Washington city states Editor Robert W. Patterson, of the Chicago Tribune, will at an early day be appointed Envoy Extraordinary to Austria-Hungary. This place has been made vacant by the resignation of Addison C. Harris.

The Tribune, though a Republican journal, has severely criticised the administration's policy on many occasions, and has bitterly denounced some of Hanna's pet measures. McKinley and Hanna are evidently scheming to silence the Tribune's guns. But can a great paper allow itself to be silenced in any such way?

SUES THE STATE BOARD.

Dr. Nelson, Osteopath, Wants to Collect a Judgment For Costs.

[Louisville Commercial.]

Dr. Harry Nelson, the osteopath, filed suit Tuesday in the Circuit Court against the State Board of Health to enforce payment of a judgement given by the Court of Appeals for $386.20.

This suit is an echo of the recent trouble between Dr. Nelson and the State Board of Health. The Board decided not to recognize osteopathy and would not permit Dr. Nelson to practice. The case was tried before Judge Sterling B. Toney and the State Board of Health was sustained.

Dr. Nelson, however, carried the fight to the Court of Appeals and won his case there, Judge Toney's decision being reversed and the plaintiff given judgment for his costs.

Reported attempts to collect the judgment have failed because of inability on the part of the Sheriff to find property belonging to the defendant subject to a levy. Dr. Nelson's attorneys claim the $5,000 per year allowance given the Board is subject to such a levy. The State Board is composed as follows: Dr. Mathews, Louisville, President; William Baily, Louisville; George T. Fuller, Mayfield; J. H. Samuels, Maysville; L. L. Robertson, Middlesboro; J. N. McCormack, Bowling Green.

Holding the Bill Up.

A Washington City special says: "Representative Pugh has returned from Kentucky, where he has been foraging for recommendations for the appointment of United States Judge in case the Kentucky Judicial bill becomes a law. For some reason or other the senior Senator from Kentucky is holding the bill up by the tail, evidently waiting for some one to shoot it. If Lindsay is going to get his man appointed it is strange that he does not report the bill. For what else is he waiting?"

"STATE OF LEWIS."

Republicans Engaged in Lively Contests Over the County Offices—The State Senatorship.

[Louisville Post.]

VANCEBURG, Ky., Jan. 29.—As yet no one has announced himself for State Senator from this district, composed of Mason and Lewis counties. Senator Cox, who so well represented the district in the last Senate, it is said, will be the next Republican candidate for Congress in the Ninth district. Mr. Cox would probably succeed himself, but his candidacy would break an old established rule that both parties have observed for a great many years, i. e., each county taking turn about in naming the nominees.

Mr. Cox being from Mason County, the Republicans of Lewis will name the next candidate. It is Mason County's turn to name the next Democratic nominee. Mr. Cox has a large following in this county.

The district has been represented by a Republican since 1893, giving a majority in 1899 of 600 over Pugh, Democrat, one of the strongest men in the district. There are several candidates spoken of. Among the number most prominently mentioned is M. O. Bane, of this city, a young lawyer. The Democrats do not know who will be their standard-bearer, as yet no one being spoken of.

The Republicans are well organized, and unless dissensions arise in their ranks in this county in selecting the candidates for county offices at the primary in June, a Republican will represent this district in the next State Senate.

Lewis County will also elect a Republican to the next Legislature. So far there has been only one entry in the person of the Hon. Jas. Cooper, the present incumbent, but it is said there will be several more.

The "State of Lewis" will witness one of the hottest Republican primaries next May ever held in the county. There are quite a number of candidates for the various offices and more to follow.

All who are to take part in "A Trip Around the World" are requested to meet at the Baptist Church Saturday afternoon at 3 o'clock, promptly.

Attention, Sir Knights.

Maysville Commandery No. 10 K. T. Special conclave at 7 o'clock p. m. Orders of the Red Cross and the Temple conferred on three candidates. Sir Knights will appear in full Knight Templar uniform. Visiting Sir Knights courteously invited. R. B. OWENS, E. C. L. C. Blatterman, Recorder.

A Concise Business Proposition.

Let us derive mutual benefits from this spell of sharp wintry weather. It may be that many of you, owing to the continued mild winter, held off buying heavy until now. It would be very advantageous to us to sell a lot of them before we put away our winter stock. It will be equally, if not more, advantageous to you to buy one. To sell them for CASH we will, during the remaining days of this month,

Overcoats and Ulsters

Mr. W. B. McAtee has been ill with the grip this week, but was better this morning.

Mrs. Jane Blanchard, of the Fifth ward, is seriously ill with congestion of the lungs.

Miss Nanlene Dunaway, who is visiting at Vanceburg, has been ill with the grip, but is improving.

The C. and O.'s earnings for December showed a net increase of $100,673, and for the last six months a net increase of $573,162.

There are sixty-three candidates for county officers before the Democratic primary to be held next month in Caldwell County, this State.

B. H. Woodworth and Miss Bertha L. Parker, of Garrison, Lewis County, were married recently by Elder Taubman, of Portsmouth. The bride is one of Lewis County's successful young school teachers.

Wednesday afternoon Arthur Pope, bookkeeper in the First National Bank of Cynthiana, and Miss Ida May Gibbons, also of that city, eloped to Covington and were married by Rev. James Gorey. The bride has a number of relatives in this city.

The municipal assembly of St. Louis by a practically unanimous vote has passed a bill providing for the issuance of $5,000,000 of bonds bearing 3½ per cent. interest for the World's Fair to be held in that city in 1903 to commemorate the one hundredth anniversary of the Louisiana Purchase.

The twentieth anniversary of the Y. P. S. C. E. will be celebrated next Sunday afternoon in a union meeting of all the Young People's societies in the Christian Church, at 3:30 o'clock. All the members of the various societies are invited to take part. There will be a song service from 3:15 to 3:30.

Judge Cantrill's handsome residence at Georgetown was gutted by fire. Miss Cecil, Mrs. Cantrill's invalid sister, was rescued with difficulty from the burning building. The loss on the house is estimated at $20,000, with an insurance of $12,000. The loss on the furniture is $3,000, half of which was saved.

T. H. Armstrong, the present Representative from Bracken, Hon. W. A. Byron, editor of the Brookeville Review and 'Squire J. E. Thompson, editor of the Augusta Chronicle, are candidates for the Democratic nomination for State Senator in the district composed of the counties of Bracken, Grant and Pendleton.

Will H. McMurray, traveling for a Portsmouth wholesale dry goods house, is confined to his home at that place with a bad case of blood poisoning, the result of a practical joke played at Sewell, W. Va., a week ago. A friend attempted to frighten him by hiding in his room in the hotel, which was dark, and firing a Roman candle at him. The burning ball struck him on the knee joint, where it stuck until it burned out. The wound was frightful and McMurray came home at once. His condition is extremely critical, and if he recovers he must lose his leg, the physicians say.

Will Boom His Business.

S. Laval, a merchant, of Dallas, Tex., writes: "I thought I would have to give up business, after two years of suffering from general debility brought on by overwork and long hours, but four bottles of Electric Bitters gave me new life. I can now eat anything, sleep well and feel like working all the time. It's the best medicine on earth." It's a wonderful tonic and health builder for tired, weak, sickly and run-down people. Try it. Satisfaction guaranteed. Only 50c. at J. Jas. Wood & Son's drug store.

That is I am going to make it so for those who want first-class goods at rock-bottom prices. Come and select what you want at prices given below. Not for one day only, but as long as they last, and don't forget that I have stacks of them. But they certainly will go fast at these prices, not merely because the prices are exceedingly low, but also because the goods will give satisfaction.

GIBSON'S FATE.

Additional Information as to the Trial of Catlettburg's Alleged Child Murderer.

(Cincinnati Post.)

CATLETTBURG, Ky., Jan. 31.—There has been no time lost in the trial of John Gibson, who tortured to death his little stepdaughter. Within two hours after the selection of a jury the State had closed its case, after examining ten witnesses and cross-examining the defendant. Adjournment was taken to await the arrival of the defendant's witness from Greenup County.

Henry Gibson, half brother of the prisoner, proved the chief witness against him. The lad is untutored and in ignorance of his own age, but he told his terrible story simply and with a manner that bespoke the truth. He told of the awful cruelties which he had seen inflicted upon the dead child—many of them too revolting for publication—apparently without feeling, but with close attention to detail. Lily, he said, was choked, beaten with wooden billets and burned.

Once, he said, Gibson dragged her about the house by her nose, and frequently, he declared, held the child before a grate fire until great blisters arose from the heat. Then he would kick or strike her. The child always submitted meekly; never cried or even complained. Fear of his life, which Gibson had threatened, kept him silent until threatened with arrest by officers. In cross-examination, Henry said he had never seen Gibson burn Lily with the poker, and that he liked him "a little." Drs. Moore and Williams, who testified that death was caused by a shock, resulting from a dislocated spine, caused by violence, and Chief of Police Yost, who told of Gibson's arrest, practically completed the State's case.

Gibson himself made a good witness, but at times his face flushed and he scarce spoke audibly, owing to nervousness. He gave his age as twenty-three years, and his birthplace as Floyd County. He was a soldier in the Fourth Kentucky Infantry in the Spanish war. In answer to a question as to the name of the dead child he said "Lillian Fitzpatrick, I suppose."

On the afternoon of Nov. 27, while working near his home, he said, his brother Henry told him the child was dying, and he hurried home. At dusk he sent for neighbors. Lily had the whooping cough, and he supposed it was a severe form of that ailment, but his wife told him Lily had fallen down stairs. He saw bruises on her back and hips and one burn on her left hand three or four days before she died. "I didn't beat her or choke her; I never punished her," he said. He couldn't identify the poker. Then he grew unconsciously dramatic as he told of his flight. Dr. Williams had arrived that night and said the child was murdered. "I was scared and ran out. I hid near. I saw a crowd in my yard and they talked rough. Then I started for Carter County, and slept that night in Cannonsville. Then I went on to Rush, but next day I started home. Friends told me the roads were full of mobs to kill me, and I didn't come. I never went farther away than Carter County, twenty-five miles."

Gibson declared that he saw his wife whip Lily the night before she died. She used a stick, and beat her harshly, and he remonstrated with her, he said. He never whipped her, he affirmed, but his wife often did, and Henry, his half-brother slapped and abused the child. "They never treated Lily right," he remarked.

"How long did you use this poker?" was the first question on cross-examination.

"What for?" came the counter-question, sharply, then he flushed.

Prosecutor Redwine's cross-examination was brief, and did not shake Gibson's story.

The case was given to the jury at 2:30 Thursday afternoon. At 4 o'clock they had not reached a verdict, and court adjourned until this morning.

River News.

The Douglass Hall and B. K. Wells are due down with tows of coal from Point Pleasant.

The Queen City is due down this evening and Bonanza to-night. Up to-night, the Lizzie Bay.

The Florence Marmet and Otto Marmet reached Cincinnati Thursday morning with big tows of coal from the Kanawha.

Owing to the steady increase in the shipment by river of metal products to Southern ports the Consolidated Coal Company of Pittsburg intends to greatly increase its line of model barges. As a starter three are being constructed now at Elizabeth. That the independent river coal concerns are prospering is shown by the fact that they are arranging to increase their towing capacity by the building of several new steamers.

The Charleston Mail-Tribune says: "The shipment of coal by river from Great Kanawha collieries for the year ending December 31, 1900, as shown by the records of the United States Engineer Office in this city, aggregated 30,837,000 bushels, or 1,233,480 tons. The prospect is promising for a continued increasing business by river. A large number of new barges, some of them belonging to coal dealers new to the Kanawha, have been brought into the river lately. Some important additions have also been made within the last few months, and others will soon be made, to the fleet of towboats. This, with new tipples building and several of the old operators preparing to increase the river output, make the prospect good for 1901."

Mr. Harry Wood who has been ill with typhoid fever several weeks is somewhat better.

John K. Vansant, one of Fleming's old and respected citizens, died Wednesday, in the eighty-second year of his age.

James G. King and Miss Laura Hamilton, of Bracken County, were married Thursday at Rudy's boarding house by Rev. F. W. Harrop.

Mr. Geo. L. Cox, who has been very ill several days, rested fairly well last night, and was thought to be somewhat improved this morning.

BOND'S

ASTHMA, HAY FEVER and RHEUMATISM

■ CURE

And all kindred complaints, due to an excess of uric acid in the blood. It accomplishes its wonderful results first, by purifying the blood and counteracting the existing poisons; second, by toning up the kidneys, liver and stomach, and thus enabling them to dispel all foreign and unnatural secretions. Don't delay. At this time of the year everything is conducive to these distressing and treacherous diseases. At the first symptoms take this famous medicine. You will find it almost miraculous in its action and positive in its good results.

IF YOU WANT TO HELP BUILD UP THE TOWN

Induce your friends to patronize the manufacturing concerns already established here. If there is one institution more than any other that the citizens of this section should encourage with their patronage, it is the JAMES H. HALL PLOW COMPANY, whose fame extends even to South America and Mexico. This firm's long and honorable career should win for them a large local trade. There is no need to buy Plows of a foreign make when implements of such worth are turned out here at home. Nothing but the best material is used in any of their products, and the models are of the latest and most improved styles. No Plow is allowed to leave their works which is not only perfect in make, but superior in workmanship and material, and prices are as low as the same quality can be furnished by any other Plow factory in the United States. Another advantage that should not be overlooked is the fact that repairs can be quickly supplied, obviating the necessity of long waits, so often the case when using plows of foreign manufacture.
